

National Geographic Rarely Seen: Photographs of the Extraordinary By National Geographic

Boasting a major cool factor the latest entry in National Geographic's iconic line of large format photography books reveals some of the world's most astounding phenomena from the desert flower that only blooms once a year to a priceless Egyptian artifact buried for years in King Tut's tomb. It's all here: 30000 year old cave art sealed from the public; animals that are among the last of their species on Earth; volcanic lightning; giant crystals that have grown to than 50 tons; the engraving inside Abraham Lincoln's pocket watch, National Geographic Rarely Seen: Photographs of the Extraordinary.
