

Two Wrongs: Part One (Roberts and Bradley Casebook, #1.1) By Solomon Carter

Hello folks My name is Solomon Carter and I am the author of the Roberts and Bradley PI crime thriller series The Last Line international thriller series the DI Hogarth Darkest series and . I ended up working in a string of jobs including as a jobcentre clerk a book seller tutor for youth with low skills and low self esteem mortgage broker and latterly manager of a food bank which dealt with all kinds of interesting people facing all kinds of eye opening jaw dropping problems. Because of these ear to Hello folks My name is Solomon Carter and I am the author of the Roberts and Bradley PI crime thriller series The Last Line international thriller series the DI Hogarth Darkest series and . I ended up working in a string of jobs including as a jobcentre clerk a book seller tutor for youth with low skills and low self esteem mortgage broker and latterly manager of a food bank which dealt with all kinds of interesting people facing all kinds of eye opening jaw dropping problems. My aim is to write action packed thrillers and page turning mysteries that readers love and my hope is to get better at what I do with every book across each and every year. Other things I do beside writing: at present I like to keep my running going to balance out the sitting behind a laptop (a habit inspired by Haruki Murakami's 'What I talk about when I talk about running' a great book). 1) Very good This guy writes some really good stuff I am working my way through it all in between the other unread books I had stockpiled Two Wrongs: Part One (Roberts and Bradley Casebook #1, I was born in Southend Essex and lived there for most of my life apart from eventful student days in South London, I was born in Southend Essex and lived there for most of my life apart from eventful student days in South London. Because of these ear to the ground jobs the majority of my novels are set in Southend. In 2016 I moved to North Cornwall because I liked the idea of never ending holidays but I also write almost every single day: I like to give away lots of free books as part of what I do. If you would like to receive some of these and get the exclusives on offer than you're invited to join my free readers group at SolomonCarter: I won't spam you just send the occassional email with news on the latest books and forthcoming freebies, And if you want to see the memes personal shares and other oddball stuff I do then you can join me at Facebook via {site_link} www, What I am good at: telling stories What I am bad at: dancing being patient. What I love: nature the seaside adventures Writers I heartily recommend: Lee Child Ian Rankin Henning Mankell Val McDermid Harlan Coben Robert Crais: Writers I need to read of: Val McDermid Ian Rankin Michael Connelly and others. When in Rome as they say Getting out into nature as the weather allows: All the very best Solomon :) PS if you have enjoyed any of my books I'd be honoured if you could post a review: Those reviews really do help! {site_link} A local karate club suffers a brutal attack. The reputation of a respected local sensei is destroyed by vile abuse. Sensei Oscar Oliver is under siege and must call in help from private detectives Eva Roberts and Dan Bradley: But then that's what everybody says - right? Oliver must own up to a life of sin to save the lives of those he loves: The good the bad and the ugly feature in Two Wrongs - one the most action packed casebooks of the entire series. Eva and Dan have a chance to help Oscar Oliver make things right - but only if the odds stacked against them turn their way: This is book 1 of a thrilling fast paced short read adventure: It's short full of non-stop action and leads to a gripping mystery. I've loved all stories about Dan and Eva including this little set-up to a bigger case, 1) Another excellent book from this author Two Wrongs: Part One (Roberts and Bradley Casebook #1, 1) Gripping I have read a couple of Solomon cater books and was gripped by this short storey. 1) Of course I enjoyed this but I was disappointed that it was only a few pages rather than the full story. Maybe a good marketing tool though I wonder if readers will feel cheated? Two Wrongs: Part One (Roberts and Bradley Casebook #1. I write mysteries crime and thriller novels and besides. But my life in Southend was even eventful still. I write mysteries crime and thriller novels and besides. But my life in Southend was even eventful still.net.facebook.com/solomoncarterwrites and join the fun there too. I am currently doing surf lessons. I look forward to hearing from you. Until then I'll keep on writing. Or running. Or surfing. Or chasing my children around the house. Oliver swears he's innocent. While private detectives and the sensei follow the leads. the clock is ticking fast. A secret past. Murky Affairs. Grudges and revenge.

Two Wrongs: Part One (Roberts and Bradley Casebook #1.1) This quick read is the first part of 'Two Wrongs'. I look forward to reading more. Two Wrongs: Part One (Roberts and Bradley Casebook #1.1). Very good read indeed. Two Wrongs: Part One (Roberts and Bradley Casebook #1.1)

